

Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy ("Policy") outlines how Floyd Bentley Accounting("we," "us," or "our") collects, uses, maintains, and discloses information collected from users ("you" or "your") of our website ("www.floydbentleyaccounting.com"). We are committed to protecting your privacy and ensuring the security of your personal information. By using our Website, you agree to the terms of this Policy.

1. Information Collection:

a. Personal Information: We may collect personal identification information from you in a variety of ways, including when you visit our Website, fill out a form, or subscribe to our newsletter. Personal information may include your name, email address, phone number, and any other information you provide to us voluntarily.

b. Non-personal Information: We may also collect non-personal identification information about you whenever you interact with our Website. Non-personal information may include the browser name, the type of computer or device you use to access the Website, and technical information about your means of connection to our Website.

2. Information Use:

a. We may use the information we collect from you for the following purposes:

- i. To personalize your experience and deliver content and offerings relevant to your interests.
- ii. To improve our Website and provide better customer service.
- iii. To send periodic emails regarding our services, updates, or other relevant information.

b. We will not sell, trade, or rent your personal information to others. We may share generic aggregated demographic information not linked to any personal identification information regarding visitors and users with our business partners, trusted affiliates, and advertisers for the purposes outlined above.

3. Information Protection:

a. We adopt appropriate data collection, storage, and processing practices and security measures to protect against unauthorized access, alteration, disclosure, or destruction of your personal information, username, password, transaction information, and data stored on our Website.

b. However, we cannot guarantee the absolute security of your information transmitted to our Website. Any transmission of personal information is at your own risk.

4. Cookies:

a. Our Website may use "cookies" to enhance your experience. You may choose to set your web browser to refuse cookies or to alert you when cookies are being sent. If you do so, note that some parts of the Website may not function properly.

5. Third-Party Websites:

a. Our Website may contain links to third-party websites. We have no control over, and assume no responsibility for, the content, privacy policies, or practices of any third-party websites. You acknowledge and agree that we shall not be responsible or liable, directly or indirectly, for any damage or loss caused or alleged to be caused by or in connection with the use of or reliance on any such content, goods, or services available on or through any third-party websites.

6. Changes to this Policy:

a. We reserve the right to update or change this Policy at any time. Any changes will be posted on this page. Your continued use of the Website after any changes to this Policy constitutes acceptance of those changes.

7. Contact Us:

a. If you have any questions about this Policy, please contact us at hello@floydbentleyaccounting.com

By using our Website, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agree to the terms of this Privacy Policy.
